

Flowers

We took them to the garden
And placed them in the soil
Where they grew to the stars

We soaked them all in sunshine
With just a little rain
Don't refrain from lying on the grass

But those stars are all in the past

Precious like diamonds sparkling
Those shifting eyes
Glitter in every sky

So please take these flowers with you
Make sure that you water them
With your watering can

But those flowers like everything are dying