

Autumn

Candles
Wax written words
Falling leaves
A heart breaking rivers
From land to sea

Where the clouds
Crying by surprise
Painting rainbows
Try to make a life
From red to green sing

Of all the sadness of the world
Cried in a moment
Blowing in a melted wind

Thou hast thy music too
In a moment
Blowing in a melted wind

But love is what this life is for
Love with ripeness to its core
My love is the clingy kind
The more that I cling on
The more she slips away

I know it hurts
It's always sad

But love is what this life is for
Love with ripeness to its core
And my love is the clingy kind
The more that I cling on
The more she'll slip away

Why not let it out slowly
Say that you're lucky
Isn't she lovely

Why not let it out slowly
Say that you're lucky
Isn't she wonderful

It's what this life is for
And beauty's for me too

Love is what this life is for
And if this is real
Then these are fingertips
