

Times Are Hard

In the distance there are words of wisdom
In the distance there is love
I wanna be with someone I come home to Somebody I can call my own

In the middle there'll be times it feels wrong
In the middle there'll be lies
I wanna feel the trust of the right person
The woman there until I die

When times are hard who'll be there
To see my future grow
Today I can't see clearly
Where my future goes

Give me a break I know we've all got history
Give me a break I know we've all got plans
I wanna be your present and your future
Don't wanna be your perfect man

Cause in the end we're only dust & ashes
Cause' in the end we're only old bones
Do I wanna be a good and steady person
Or someone I don't wanna know

Then I must make good choices
My time on earth ain't long
So I must hold my head high
And sing a simple song

When times are hard who'll be there
To see my future grow
Today I can't see clearly
Where my future goes

So I must make good choices
My time on earth ain't long
So I must hold my head high
And sing a simple song
