

You Deserve It

I can see clear as glass where I went wrong
Treating the past like it's some country song
It isn't

Every time that you tell her about your history
You are pushing her further into the bloody sea
And you know it

So why do you keep on telling her
And why can't you just let her be
You lie every time that you're telling her
So cry on your pillow tonight
You deserve it

Can you just hear yourself talking weddings and kids
Stop treating the world like you fit into it
When you don't

Every time that you push future-plans in through the door
You are knocking down your hopes with a bulldozer
So stop doing it

And why do you keep on selling it
And why can't you just live in now
You die every time that you're selling it
So cry on your pillow tonight
You deserve it

And when you think a friend is just a friend
Be careful you don't let the ivy grow around you
Such poison kills the very best in life
So keep away from the venom and the vile
For you are not a child

So why do you keep on telling her
And why can't you just let her be
You lie every time that you're telling her
So cry on your pillow tonight
You deserve it