

Your Man (I'll Be)

I'll be a teacher on Monday
I'll be a poet on Tuesday
But Wednesday I'll be your man

I'll be an actor on Thursday
I'll be a singer on Friday
But on Wednesday I'll be your man

When the weekend has gone by
When the hour hand circles
Then on Wednesday I'll be your man

When the morning has broken
When the evening has fallen
Then on Wednesday I'll be your man

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man
I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

Because you're all that I want now
And you're all that I've wanted
And you're all that I'll ever need

Although I need some good work to do
And I need food and water too
You're the missing part in my scene

Although this just is a stupid song
And I have been a stupid boy
I am crazy in love for you

So when Monday and Tuesday go
There is one thing that you should
That on Wednesday I'll be your man

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man
I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

I heard three wise men say to me
That old worn cliché we all say
There's plenty more fucking fish in the sea
Well here's what I say
I say there is one for me

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

I'll be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man, be your man

I'll be your man, I'll be your man
